

REFERENCES

1. Benkler, Y. 2006. The Wealth of Networks: How Social Production Transforms Markets and Freedom, Yale University Press
See http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/The_Wealth_of_Networks
2. Lessig, L. 2004. Free Culture: How Big Media Uses Technology and the Law to Lock Down Culture and Control Creativity, The Penguin Press
See: <http://www.free-culture.cc/>
3. The NAMCOL Act, Act 1 of 1997
4. The Copyright and Neighbouring Rights Protection Act 6, 1996
5. COL's Policy on Intellectual Property: <http://www.col.org>
6. Intellectual Property Rights Policy of BOCODOL (Draft)
7. Intellectual Property Rights Policy of the University of Waikato:
<http://www.waikato.ac.nz>
8. Policy 73 – Intellectual property Right: <http://secretariat.uwaterloo.ca>
9. Information Policies – Intellectual Property: <http://web.mit.edu>
10. Tucker, K.C. 2007. Say "Libre" for Knowledge and Learning Resources. <http://communities.libre.org/philosophy/saylibre> and discussion version: http://wikieducator.org/Say_Libre