

P.K.D. Menaka

08/MS/175

Department of Marketing Management

Faculty of Management Studies

Current situation of agriculture marketing in Sri Lanka

01. In the current, agriculture sector in Sri Lanka is facing a number of challenges such as different weather conditions and weather patterns, such as the recent drought.
02. Today, Sri Lankans are exporting coconut water, which is a much sought after product in the international market.
03. Organic production has become very important thing in current agriculture sector.
04. Today, farmers can get agriculture credit (investment, saving and risk management) and agriculture insurance (to protect the farmers from the risks associated with natural calamities).
05. Land recourses which are suitable for cultivating are utilized for various purposes such as road development activities, building harbors and airports and various building for commercial purpose.